

Asia Operations Update – January 30, 2020

Please be advised that GlobalDoc's Asia-based translation teams are operating normally with respect to the Coronavirus outbreak.

Asia-based translators are fulfilling all client obligations, while at the same time recognizing the need to work from their homes in some regions as a safety precaution until the outbreak subsides. There are no delays or disruptions to Asian language capabilities.

LangXpert also continues to provide clients and translation teams with 24/7/365, safe, secure, cloud-based access to GlobalDoc's services worldwide from any location.

Thank you for working with GlobalDoc. For any questions or requests, please feel free to contact us at info@globaldoc.com.

Best regards,
GlobalDoc, Inc.
